Join us to learn about planned accessibility improvements for seven Green Line C Branch surface stations along Beacon Street in Brookline, MA. These upgrades aim to address barriers to public transportation accessibility, ensuring compliance with the Massachusetts Architectural Access Board and Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and enhancing equity across the transit system. As part of the Green Line—the nation’s oldest light rail subway line—these improvements will modernize the stations, making them fully accessible to riders with disabilities or limited mobility.

The project, currently in the preliminary design phase, has a $51 million budget, with construction set to begin in Spring 2025 and conclude in Winter 2026. During this meeting, we’ll discuss key features of the project, including platform height adjustments for easier boarding, sloped walkways, improved lighting, and enhanced wayfinding. These updates will offer faster, more comfortable boarding experiences, better station access, and a safer environment for all riders. Attendees will also have the opportunity to hear about the progress of environmental reviews and preliminary engineering.

Join us to learn more about how this project will transform accessibility on the Green Line C Branch.
